Chapter 206: The Blessing of the All-Seeing Eyes

In the realms of the Divine Triad, the powers of the Duo Dragons and the Seven Dragons reached new heights. Their status as divine beings had already granted them immeasurable influence, but with the gift of the All-Seeing Eyes, they gained an ability far beyond that of ordinary mortals or even most gods.

The Gift of the All-Seeing Eyes

The Divine Triad—Sung Jin-Woo, Sung Su-Ho, and Ashborn—bestowed upon the Duo Dragons and the Seven Dragons the power of the All-Seeing Eyes. These eyes were no ordinary gift. They granted the ability to peer into the depths of the multiverse, to see the very essence of existence, and to sense the desires and needs of those who called upon their names.

Whenever a follower or worshipper of the Dragons sought their guidance, the Dragons could see their hearts, their intentions, and the power within them. The All-Seeing Eyes allowed them to understand who was worthy of their blessings and who required their aid. They could see the true nature of the world, even in the most distant corners of the multiverse, responding to the pleas of their followers with divine precision.

Responding with Divine Blessings

With the All-Seeing Eyes, the Duo Dragons—Sung Ye-Jun and Sung Ye-Rin—and the Seven Dragons could respond directly to the wishes of their followers. They were no longer limited to distant actions or indirect interventions. Now, when someone invoked their name, they could reach out immediately, their divine presence felt through the cosmos.

They could choose to:

1. Grant Blessings: Bestowing enhanced strength, wisdom, or protection on those they deemed worthy. A blessing from the Duo Dragons or the Seven Dragons was a powerful force, elevating the recipient to new heights of power.

2. Level-Up System: The Dragons could also directly impact the level progression of their most loyal followers. For those who had already reached the exalted rank of Level 500, the Dragons would initiate a new level of ascension, granting them the ability to evolve further in their divine power. This new level would not only increase their strength but would give them access to even greater abilities tied to their connection with the Dragons.

The Granting of the Dragon Heart

For those followers and worshippers who had reached Level 500 and had proven their devotion, the Divine Triad and the Dragons bestowed a sacred and transformative gift: the Dragon Heart.

This new heart, the Dragon Heart, was no ordinary organ. It acted as both a source of mana and a flame of power, intertwining the very essence of fire and magic within the beings who bore it. The Dragon Heart was a manifestation of the deep connection between the Dragons and their followers, empowering them with:

1. Mana Amplification: The Dragon Heart significantly boosted the mana reserves of its bearer, allowing them to tap into even greater reserves of magical energy. This granted the ability to perform feats of unimaginable power, tapping into the boundless potential of the multiverse.

2. Flame of Power: As the heart also served as a conduit for flames, the Dragon Heart would ignite the wielder with intense, fiery power, allowing them to wield the flames of the dragons themselves. The heat of the fire burned not only through their enemies but also through the very fabric of reality, making them formidable forces of destruction.

3. Eternal Flame: The Dragon Heart also imbued the bearer with eternal resilience, ensuring that their strength would never wane. Like the Dragons themselves, those who received this heart would never fall into weakness or decline, forever burning with the vitality of their divine patron.

A New Era of Power and Growth

With the granting of the All-Seeing Eyes and the Dragon Heart, the Duo Dragons and the Seven Dragons became even more deeply intertwined with the fates of their followers. No longer were they simply deities in the distant heavens; they were active participants in the lives of their worshippers, guiding and elevating them to ever greater power.

The Dragonkind—those who held the Dragon Heart—became a symbol of ultimate strength, their powers exponentially enhanced. The blessings of the Dragons, coupled with the All-Seeing Eyes, ensured that their realm would never again be at risk of weakness. Their followers, now elevated to near-divine status, would form the backbone of the Divine Triad’s forces, becoming the stewards of peace, power, and flame across the multiverse.

In the wake of these gifts, the Dragonkind grew ever more devoted, knowing that their divine patrons, the Duo Dragons and Seven Dragons, would forever watch over them with eyes that saw all, responding with blessings that forged an unbreakable bond between them. The age of dragon-power had begun—an era where fire, mana, and divine will would reign supreme.
